Poetry.

The Chicago Fire.

BY HUGH F. M'DERMOTT.

Hush, hark, that knell!
What means that bell?
That rousing swell?
It dies, it sinks in parted links.

Again it thrills! Again it fills!
Waking, shaking, leaping higher,
Hoarse and deep with embodied fire.

See that smoke! See that cloud!
Darker, denser, wider growing,
Rushing, pushing, shouting, yelling;
Love to save, each bosom swelling—
Swelling, swelling, swelling.

Place the engine! Seize the hose!
Let the water boldly float
On the fiendish, fiery foes,
And the engine puff her throat.

O the flames! O the flames!
Winding, wafting, twisting, turning,
Cracking, scorching blazing, burning!
Burning, burning, burning!

Hear those names! Hear those claims!
Save me, father! Save me, mother!
Sister, save me! Save me, brother!
O hear our angel baby's cry!
No more. Its lips in ashes lie.

Raise the stream! Raise the stream!
Pure love and life are sinking, failing!
Midst seas of flame there's loud bewailing
Whilst darling hearts the walls are scaling,
Scaling, scaling, scaling!

Hark, that cry! Hear that sigh!
O that scream! Horrors teem!
Mailed in might, stout hearts are wielding
Axes bright, from danger shielding,
Life's last throbs nigh before they die.

Hush—that clash! Gods, that crash!
Madly rising, tearing, dashing,
Widly flouncing, flaring, flashing,
Red flames lash the broken sash.

Hark, hark, within—a breath, a din!
Groaning, moaning, clinging, grasping,
Life on fire; a fireman clasping!
Clasping, clasping, clasping!
Such love of kin should glory win.

Now, now you see the flames are free!
Spouting, spreading, waving, soaring,
Plunging, tossing, raging, roaring,
In one hot sea of dread decree.

The high raised throws from spurting hose—
Tending, bending, wraping, binding,
Seeking, chasing, meeting, blinding
Each blast that blows from fiery foes.

O God, that wall! That prayer, that fall!
Ruin, wreck and desolation,
Ravage, waste and devastation,
Shread Death's sad pall over all.

Was it a beam, or brick or stone
Tore here the flesh, broke there a bone!
Matted and moiled, floats here and there,
Clotted with blood, a tuft of hair,

Look on that head See where the beam
Bared to the scalp, and round the seam
Uprooted, loose, flying away,
Hair by hair, wherever it may.

That lurid glare! That ghastly stare!
Bruised, maimed and gashed, soiled, stained and broken
Of former looks scarce left a token.

Could those lips speak, how they could tell
Of direful woe and fortune fell!
For mother's grief those eyes have shed;
For brother's pain that still heart bled.

As on that shattered form I gaze,
Where deepening gloom emits its rays,
Where life might linger, yet is not,
I waver in man's future lot.

On that brow a thought is molded;
On those lips a word lies folded;
Immortal word—immortal thought!
What seprah fleet the whisper caught?

What now is light or gloom, or earth of air,
To that wild stare?
Or friend, or foe, or joy or woe,
Or frown or smile, or trust or guile,
To that dead glare!
Truth rests but in the tomb.

Miscellaneous.

Scenes Among the Dead Letters.

Next to dying the death of a christian, I should prefer that of a dead letter.—The letter-carrier knocks at the door under the designated number, "A letter for —— Jones, Esq." "Don't live here," answers the servant. A pencil mark is placed on the epistle, and without even the scratch of a bare bodkin, it is dead, in due time to be forwarded to its tomb at Washington. It has gone to its long home; it has been launched into eternity without a pang, without a regret for all the hopes or sorrows which gave it birth or a single thought of the aforesaid loved, hated, or dunned Mr. Jones from its not having to fulfill its destiny.

Who does not feel a deep interest in a dead letter? It brings with it mystery, melancholy, and a brooding sadness. I have to thank them for many a dreamy reverie. Their deaths, like others, often end friendship and love, and affection grows cold from supposed neglect. Who has lived for many years on this globe of sorrow and not known the importance that many attach to a miscarriage of a letter? Jennie K——, a black-eyed sylph, now with God let us hope, loved and was loved again; her lover, in search of those smiles of fortune which would enable him to wed, went South. He wrote to her with all the passion of love, but the letters miscarried, and reports reached her of his wildness and fickleness of heart. Stung to the soul by his apparent neglect, she espoused another, and now too late learned the madness of the act. Poor girl! The doctors a few months afteiwards reported her another victim of consumption—but she died of a dead letter.

The entree to the Dead-letter Office, like kissing, goes by favor; at least it cost me many pullings of the right strings until it was obtained. I do not mean the mere privilege of looking into a room, where some men and women clerical undertakers are preparing some thousands of dead letters for burial, as you would look into the glass cases of the Patent Office at the old clothes of the immortal Washington. Not at all—any one can do that who is properly introduced, and have a frown for his pains if he touches one of the letters. I mean the uncontrolled, unlimited, unchecked range of the whole office, with full permission to read, extract, or copy anything or everything therein.

It was near eight o'clock one evening that I found that I could obtain permission to spend the following day amongst the dead; and during that night, letters and funeral processions of every imaginable form were flitting through my brain. Morning at last broke, and I started at an hour early as possible for the white marble palace post-office. Having entered on the north front I ascended the stairs, then walked along the corridor which extends several hundred feet through the entire building. Entering the room of the Third Assistant Postmaster General I was cordially received by that handsome and intelligent namesake of the "Emeral Ilse," Mr. William M. Ireland, chief clerk, but now acting Third Assistant Post Master General; he wrote an order for my admission, and I was escorted to the north front by a messenger, and entering an iron wicket gate, it closed behind me and I was in though merely a "palace of skulls," for they (the letters) being dead yet they speak.

I bowed solemnly to the clerks as I was introduced by my guide, and when he retired sat down, lost in reverie over the sad scene; for what a record of buried hopes, lost friends, broken friendships, and neglected love, lay scattered about that cemetery. While dreaming thus one of the clerks began whistling "Shoofly;" in an instant the spell was broken, and I went business-like to my task of dissecting some hundreds of subjects.

The Dead-letter Department is one of much importance; there all letters and packages which are misdirected, refused, without stamps, or miscarry, are sent after being advertised a certain length of time in the places to which they are addressed; and, strange as it may seem, between four and five millions annually fail to reach their destination, say some fifteen thousand daily. These are received, at stated times, from the various branches all over the Union, and are placed on the long tables of the lower office, where some twenty men clerks are exclusively employed in opening them; if they contain nothing, they are thrown down, then distributed to other clerks; each letter is enclosed in another envelope and returned to the writer, free of postage, under an act of Congress, approved June 12, 1866; the date of receipt is marked on the letter, and if not delivered within one month, reason for its non-delivery is endorsed on it, and returned again to the Dead-letter Office, when it is indeed dead beyond redemption, and sent to the Government burial ground, paper mills, instead of being burnt as formerly. Letters that have no signature, such as Ulysses, Hiram, Bob, Susan, Lily, or Fair, are immediately turned over to the paper manufacturer. Should the letters contain money they are laid on a side table, and recording clerks range them alphabetically in the boxes prepared for the purpose. Should they contain other valuables, such as razors, a small two-story brick house, franked by some enterprising M. C., a new dress, or a blooded horse, it is delivered to the proper clerk, who puts them in another room.—In each of the above cases the money letters, packages, &c., are put in other envelopes and directed to the writer, and if not called for are sent back in one month. If the money letters are not heard from within three years, the money are placed in the United States Treasury, still subject to the owner if he brings requisite proofs; the packages of razors, trinkets, &c., are placed in the museum.

In this lower office, all of whom are men, there are one hundred clerks; many of them have been officers and soldiers in the army. Among them I noticed an old, white haired gentleman, a brother of the late Hon. Amos Kendall, who was appointed by General Jackson's administration, and he has for over forty years done nothing else but open dead letters; a son of the late Judge Cranch of the United States Suprem eCourt; also Rev. M. Tustkin, an old gentleman who was chaplain of the Senate during the administration of Jackson.

ANGELS ABOVE.

After having examined things below, my attention was called above to a platform about seven feet in width, surrounded by an iron railing, extending around the four walls of the room; sparkling eyes and heavy chignons could be seen. The obliging chief of division, Mr. Charles man, to whom thanks are due, asked if I would like to visit that region also, as that was the heavenly part of his kingdom; of course I acquiesced, and we started for that higher sphere in the "world of letters." Going into the hall, we ascended another stairway, passing through another room; a door opened, and I saw, oh! ye gods! the angels, who, although destitute of wings, have all the other "appurtenances." Although such superior beings all were holding inquests upon the multitude of dead letters. One would think that these men and women clerks after reading so continually of the divine afflatus would become sickened of love; but they are not. A handsome little miss was seated at the "request" desk, where all letters that have a request on the envelope to that effect, are returned to the writer. About two hundred of these are received and sent off daily. Another was returning to the writers unprepaid letters. Some fifteen thousand annually are dropped into the different postoffices throughout the Union without having stamps upon them. Here is one attending to the mutilated currency, "patching it;" eight hundred dollars a month are resurrected and returned to the senders. Others attend to bills of larger description. One lady returns letter stamps, sent by some anxious person to insure an answer.—Many are kept constantly busy enveloping and directing letters back to their writers. This ladies' apartment is nearly a repetition of the duties below in the men's office. Here you could see the blonde and brunette, young and passe—all polite and sweet, if they are undertakers; God bless them! Many distinguished officers' widows are here, and several ladies of literary note. The late Commodore Horner's wife, also the wife of General Schimmelpfennig, of Fort Sumpter fame, are seen hard at work.—There are sixty ladies employed, all doing men's work and receiving women's pay. A "vacant chair" was there; I was told that it had been occupied by Mrs. Pettigrew King-Bowen, the last partner and defender of the unfaithful M. C.; her time was occupied exclusively in translating foreign letters, she being a most accomplished linguist, speaking fluently many of the modern languages. Her substitute will be difficult to find.

Going down below regretfully from the sphere above, I inspected the "museum," every article received which fails to find an owner is kept and labeled and placed in a glass case, and in this way they collect gloves, rings, garters, chemisettes, paddies, (?) stockings, books, locks of hair, chignons, pictures, photographs, law papers, and so on; title deeds and other valuable papers, supposed to be lost, are often recovered there.

Of the mass of letters through which I waded, but few would bear a selection for the public eyes. So many were notices of protests, circulars, &c., and so many to persons traveling, merely relating in an indifferent way the doings at home for a few previous days, about Mary having the measles, or Fanny a cold, or Mrs. Fido having "purps," the cat dead, canary escaped, mother's got a baby, or the geranium dying—that, as is often the case, what began in hope ended somewhat in disappointment.

WHY LETTERS DIE.

The following are among the many reasons for so many letters failing to reach their destination, viz: A person is traveling and stays but a few hours at one place, and the letter arrives after he leaves; very often owing to negligence of the postoffice clerk, who, in his haste to read the last novel, overlooks it; failing to go to the postoffice regularly, it is advertised, and not knowing does not inquire for advertised letters; mis-spelled and otherwise badly directed; many have been directed to the wrong office; the person may have moved from the city and neglected to give the postmaster an order for his mail to be forwarded; moved to another residence and carrier fails to find him; too sick to go to the postoffice—Dead!

The Ku-Klux Reign of Terror.

We have recently taken the pains to examine carefully hundreds of pages of the printed testimony taken before the Congressional Committee on Ku-Klux outrages in the Southern States, whose duty it was to ascertain the condition of affairs in those States, so far as it relates to the security of life, person, and property. From a thorough perusal of the voluminous documents containing the sworn testimony of witnesses from various parts of the South and belonging to both political parties, we are irresistibly impelled to the conclusion that the Ku Klux organization is an adjunct of the Democratic party established and operated with the view of effecting political results. This seems to be the general purpose of the organization, and the direction in which all their acts point. The substantial declaration made when Ku Klux crimes and outrages were being committed was that their perpetrators and those they claimed to represent did not propose to submit to negro government and carpet bag rule.

Most of the witnesses examined by the Committee have detailed the circumstances of the outrages perpetrated by the Ku-Klux upon themselves and a great many others during the last twelve months, and have proved a most terible and shocking state of affairs to exist in the late insurrectionary States. They have declared that Republicans, white and colored, in their own locality and the country surrounding them were in a state of inexpressible alarm and terror, and that scourging were of common and constant occurrence, and murders were frequently committed; that they feel no security in their homes at night, and many are in the habit of sleeping in the woods in all kinds of weather.

They testify that they have never known any Ku Klux outrages to have been perpetrated upon a Democrat, and that all Republicans fully understand that they can purchase security by openly proclaiming themselves Democrats and voting the Democratic ticket. Some have been obliged to do so, knowing well what the consequences would be in case of their refusal or non-compliance.

We think that these facts prove conclusively that the spirit of the rebellion still lives in the Southern wing of the Democratic party, and that they prefer to appeal to brute force instead of to the decision of the people through the ballot. Instead of open, armed revolt against the Government and resistance to the execution of law and order, it seems that we are to have systematic lawlessness and intimidation, disgraceful humanity and belying civilization, under the auspices of the Democratic party. Is it thus that the Lost Cause is to retrieve itself? If so, we appeal to all fair-minded men in the Democratic party to take at once a "new departure" by voting with the Republican party and thus refusing to co-operate with the infatuated men who have so basely prostituted their ancient organization.

Let the freemen of the North, irrespective of party, register their decree and pronounce in thunder tones against the organized and systematic diabolism and mob law of the Southern Ku-Klux Democracy, who would perpetuate the rebellion in another form and snatch unholy victory from the very jaws of honorable defeat and surrender. At the ballot-box and in our legislative halls must we, as friends of the Union, fix and secure the logical and legitimate results of the war, so that they will not be upset by the reactionary movements and measures of the Ku Klux and their allies and abettors North and South, if we would not have them become the subjects of new and dangerous struggles again.

Anvils.

In a deserted shop in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, there rests on its block an anvil that has done duty for more than three hundred years. It is as sound to day as it was in 1533, when Eltweed Pomeroy, after welding for the Stuarts the ponderous horseshoes of the same style and pattern that his ancestors had made during generations for the Tudors and Plantagenets, grew weary of taxes without law, and work without wages, and anvil in hand sailed for the new world. A deft workman, he throve in the settlements, and left his anvil as an heir loom to his descendents. They show you in the Tower of London the anvil on which the sword was forged that Richard Cœur de Lion used in his contest with Salada, and at the collection of Pomeian excavations in Naples there is an anvil, certainly older than the Christian centuries, which, of precisely the shape we use, had evidently done service for stalwart workmen of many generations before the city was buried. But, better still, in the Egyptian room of the British Museum, there is a veritable anvil of the Pharaohs. It is older than Rome, older than Greece, older than Jerusalem; as old as the days of Abraham, and probably in existence when the patriarch "was come into Egypt and the Egyptians beheld Sarai that she was very fair." It is just like a modern anvil, made apparent in the same way, weighing about seventy-five pounds, and sound as it was when first struck by the hammer thirty centuries ago.

Gilman, Ill., is pleasantly agitated by a late elopement. The lover went after his girl in a light vehicle with muffled wheels, while an accomplice drove a heavier machine adapted to making as much noise as possible. The lady being duly deposited in the muffled vehicle, the heavy one dashed off at a furious rate, with papa in hot pursuit, while the lovers were noiselessly driving in the opposite direction and shortly became man and wife.

Varieties of Life.

How curiously and variously the conditions of life differ, in different parts of that North American Continent over which the American people are spreading with such unexampled rapidity and success, and how little we have yet done toward recognizing and adapting ourselves with the necessary skill and care to these conditions? Our people carry with them from the East to the Illinois prairies, to the Colorado plains, to the Gulf of Mexico, and to the Pacific shores, their long-accustomed habits of building and living, and learn after all but slowly to accommodate themselves to a new life.

San Francisco, subject to earthquakes, has learned to build low and mainly of wood. It has but few stone or brick dwellings. Chicago, built of wood as it was, and as probably it must be rebuilt, needs to take some new and extraordinary precautions against fire, which is, upon its flat surface, exposed to the fury of gales from the lake—a more serious danger by far, and one more difficult to provide against, than that of the earthquake shock. The danger of fire in Chicago appears, by the way, to have been foreseen by many of our insurance companies, and we cannot but wonder at the vigilance and business prescience which in so many cases enabled large companies, doubtless as eager as their neighbors for "risks," to announce in their advertisements, after the fire, that they had for some time withdrawn from Chicago business.

If New Orleans can be made feverproof, as Gen. Butler proved it could during the war; if San Francisco can be made earthquake-proof, surely Chicago can contrive to guard itself in the future against fire. But what an impressive idea it gives one of the vastness of our country, to remember that in one city the earthquake, in anothor the pestilence, in another fire controls the architecture and the daily life of the inhabitants; that in the prairies New-Englanders have been compelled by tornadoes to build their churches without steeples; in the Southern and Western States, Northern men must learn to guard themselves against exposure to the miasma born on the night air; in parts of the territories the water is impregnated with poisonous minerals; in the South Carolina rice swamps death flies only with the frosts of autumn, and returns, sudden and sure, in early Spring; that, while in Maine and Minnesota snow covers the ground for a considerable part of every year, in the far South and in California Christmas is kept in the open air, and men and women of New-England birth eat their Thanksgiving turkey with doors and windows open, and gather, after dinner, not around the fire, but on the piazza.

Before we have thoroughly conquered and subdued this great wilderness we shall have to adapt our lives to many strange conditions. Fever, whirlwind, earthquake, lightning, flood, the extremes of cold and heat, and even of altitude, we must learn to endure and provide against. At Denver a considerable city stands as high as the summit of Mount Washington; the locomotive will presently shriek in Georgetown, three thousand feet higher, and in Virginia City, in Nevada, still higher, visitors often suffer from bleeding at the nose till they become accustomed to the rarified atmosphere; and doubtless a vigorous game of football would quickly prostrate even the most energetic school boys. But the railroad, telegraph, common laws and a common language make of all one country and one nation; and though the first settlers in a new region have often to buy experience at a dear rate, and though even a great city like Chicago may become the victim of a too confident disregard of natural laws and strange conditions, the Yankee, westward or southward bound, will not retreat, but resolutely defies even the hostile forces of nature.—New York Times.

Josh's Wisdom.

Revenge sumtims sleeps, but vanity alwus keeps one I open.

The only human being on the face ov this earth that I really envy, iz a laffing Christian.

Men ov little authority are like men ov little strength—alwus anxious tew lift sumthing.

Thare iz two kind ov men that I don't kare to meet when i am in a grate hurry; men that i owe, and men that want to owe me.

I think young coxcombs end their lives az old slovens.

Yu kant konvert sinners bi preaching the gospel tew them at half-price. Enny sinner who iz anxious tew git hiz religion in that way iz satified with a poor artikle.

Thare iz no better evidence ov wisdom than tew beleave what we kant understand.

Yu will alwus notis one thing: the devil never offers tew go into partnership with a bizzy man; but yu will often see him offer tew jine the lazy, and furnish all the capital.

Hope has made a grate menny blunders; but there is one thing about her that I alwus did like; she means well.

Whenever yu hear a man who alwus wants tew bet his bottom dollar, you kan make up yure mind that that iz the size ov of pile.

I look upon the north pole as one ov the pekuliar spots ov ground; if it aint never found, we shant be none ov the wuss off; and if it iz found, we shant be none the better off.

The highest rate of interest that we pay iz for borrowed trouble. Things that are alwus a-going tew happen, never do happen.

I hav known people who had so little karakter that they didnt even hav any phailing.

Face all things; even adversity iz polite to a man's face.

Whenever i see a man anxious tew git into the middle ov a fite that dont belong to him, i am alwus anxious tew hav him, for i know he iz sure to be the wust whipt man in the party.

Thare aint but phew men weak enuff tew admit their jealousys; even a disgraced rooster in a barnyard will git a leetle further off and begin tew crow up a new reputashun.

Cunning, at best, only duz the dirty work of wisdum; therefore I dispizeit.—From Josh Buillings' Alminax for 1872.

When Henry Meigs was banker at San Francisco, a washerwoman deposited her $2,500 of savings with him, and it was there when Henry failed. A short time ago she read of his great possessions in Peru, and she packed up and went after him, presented her book and story, and received her money, principal and interest to date.

Handwriting.

Many people laugh at what is called "graptomancy," or the art of judging characters by handwriting; and yet all acknowledge that handwriting does indicate something. Every one allows a difference between a man's and woman's hand; we hear people speak of a vulgar hand, a gentlemanly hand, a clerkly hand, &c. "I had once," said Archbishop Whately, "a remarkable proof that hand writing is sometimes, at least, an index to character. I had a pupil at Oxford whom I liked in most respects greatly; there was but one thing about him which serious dissatisfied me, and that, as I often told him, was his handwriting; it was not bad as writing, but it had a mean, shuffling character in it, which always inspired me with a feeling of suspicion. While he remained at Oxford I saw nothing to justify this suspicion; but a transaction in which he was afterwards engaged, and in which I saw more of his character than I had done before, convinced me that the writing had spoken truly.

"But I knew of a much more curious case, in which a celebrated 'graptomancer' was able to judge of character more correctly by handwriting than he had been able to do by personal observation. He was on a visit at a friend's house, where, among other guests, he met a lady whose conversation and manners greatly struck him, and for whom he conceived a strong friendship, based on the esteem he felt for her as a singularly truthful, pure minded, and single-hearted woman. The lady of the house, who knew her real character to be the very reverse of what she seemed, was curious to know whether Mr.——would be able to discover this by her handwriting. Accordingly she procured a slip of this lady's writing (having ascertained he had never seen it) and gave it him one evening as the handwriting of a friend of hers whose character she wished him to decipher. His usual habit, when he undertook to exercise this power, was to take a slip of a letter, cut down lengthwise so as not to show any sentences, to his room at night, and to bring it down with his judgement in writing the next morning. On this occasion, when the party were seated at the breakfast table, the lady whose writing he had unconsciously been examining, made some observation which particularly struck Mr.——as seeming to be token a very noble and truthful character. He expressed his admiration of her sentiments very warmly, adding at the same time to the lady of the house, 'Not so, by the way, your friend;' and he put into her hand the slip of writing of her guest she had given him the evening before, over which he had written the words, 'Fascinating, false, and hollow-hearted.' The lady of the house kept the secret, and Mr.——never knew that the writing on which he had pronounced so severe a judgment was that of the friend he so greatly admired."

A Telling Rebuke to Southern Arrogance.

Hon. B. H. Hill of Georgia, in a recent address before the Alumni of the State University, alluded to the evils which had been brought upon the South by slavery, and, as a consequence, a large part of the Georgian press opened upon him with the most violent denunciations. This led Mr. Hill to write a letter, in which appear the following paragraphs:

With every ingredient more abundant at home, we send to the originally barren North for fertilizers to give life to our originally fertile, now deadened soil; with the finest ores and exhaustless coal beds peeping at us from our own hill sides; with the richest land on the continent, we send North for bread to feed our children; with the noblest trees that ever lifted their tops toward heaven, if we want a finer church in which to worship or a more convenient residence in which to live, we send North for the plan, for the architect, and for the builder! We spend millions of dollars sending our children to the North to be educated, and refuse the smallest pittance for the endowment of universities at home.

Our physicians and surgeons send North for their medicines to heal, and for the tools that secure skill in their delicate art; our preachers send North for the books in which to learn the rule of justice for our people; our preachers send North for commentaries on the Bible to teach their flocks the way of salvation; our editors send North for type to print their papers; and lawyers, preachers and editors make long speeches, say long prayers, and fill whole columns, thanking God for superior Southern genius, purity and learning! And our politicians, ah! shades of Demosthenes and Cicero, bend down and hear the matchless periods of true patriotic eloquence.—Our politicians strut like condecending Jupiters to the hustings, with Northern hats on their heads, Northern shoes on their feet, and Northern coats on their backs, and prove to gaping crowds their unequalled fitness for office in straining their lungs as the thundergust doth the yielding clouds with noisy denunciations of Northern weakness and greed and climactic eulogies on Southern power and independence!

Orgin of the Word Bogus.

Bogus is a corruption of the name of one "Borghese," a very corrupt individual, who, many years ago, or more, did a tremendous business in the way of supplying the Great West, and portions of the Southwest, with a vast amount of counterfeit bills, and bills on fictitious banks, which never had an existence. The Western people, who are rather rapid in their talk, when excited, soon fell into the habit of shortening the Norman name of Borghese to the more handy one of "Bogus;" and his bills, and all other bills of like character, were universally styled by them "bogus currency." By an easy and not very unnatural process of transition, or metaphorical, tendency, the word is now occasionally applied to other fraudulent papers, such as sham mortgages, bills of sale, conveyances, etc.

THE SITUATION.

When we began to publish the facts about the Ku Klux in this State certain parties asked us to be silent—that it was "impolitic and unwise." We replied that the NORTH CAROLINIAN was a news-paper, and that while we had control of it we intended that it should be reliable and truthful. Others hereabout pooh-poohed the existence of such an organization; that the talk about it was all for political effect—to "help the Radicals;" in short that the whole affair was in the imagination. We told them that they were mistaken; that there was such an organization; that its object was to aid and benefit the Democratic party, and that it was proving a serious detriment and curse to the State. Now what have these gentlemen to say since leaders of this organization have openly confessed that all, nay more than we published concerning it, is true?

The readers of the NORTH CAROLINIAN shall never be deceived. While we do not indulge in exaggerations we have no concealments. The Ku Klux Klan has existed—does exist in this State and it is a blot upon her fair escutcheom. It has been a power, terrible and dangerous. The course of the NORTH CAROLINIAN in sustaining the men who dared to grapple with the monster has ended in checking it, intimidating it, and will be the means of crushing it out. Had we remained silent; had the loyal press neglected to expose these banded assassins, and hesitated in sustaining such brave and true men as POOL in the Senate and COBB in the House in their efforts to save and redeem the State from what the "Democratic lawyers" now confess was bringing "nothing but calamity to it," this disgraceful and infamous association would have made it impossible for any man refusing to do their bidding to remain with safety within her borders.

But thank God, the worst is over—the danger is past. The exposures made and the means devised for ferreting out and punishing the guilty are having the proper effect. Consternation has seized the Chiefs, terror and dismay has spread throughout the Klan, the "Dens" are closing, the organization disbanding and many of the leaders are fleeing the State—fugitives from justice, "leaving their country for their country's good." And now the laws are enforced, order reigns and peace resumes her sway. Henceforth every man can feel as secure in his property and his person in North Carolina as in any State of the Federal Union.

THE MAN NOT THE SOIL.

It is a truth not generally taken into account that it is the farmer, not the soil that gives true value to a surface. The Northern States, and especially New England, are full of farmers who have lived in thrift and comfort and died in competence on a soil that will not produce wheat at all, nor anything else without heavy manuring. On the other hand we have here in the South plenty of men who are living in the midst of large farms of fertile land, all their own, and yet so poor as to deny themselves all the luxuries and many of the comforts of life. It is not the soil but the man—the thrift and skill with which the soil is handled.

The man who can make a living and acquire a competence on the poorer lands in the North could, by the same thrift and skillful management, very soon become independent, nay rich on our land here. So sure are we of this that we do not hesitate in inviting our Northern friends to make the trial.

INVENTION.

How often do we hear the expression, "wonderful are the inventions of the age," In one sence this is true; and yet when we properly think upon the subject the wonder is right the other way. Nature has a mighty store of resources and powers yet undeveloped, all capable of benefitting the human race, but as yet lying dormant for the want of an inventor like Watt, Ficth or Fulton to harness them and set them to work. But for fogy adherence to old ways, a witless reluctance to new, and a grin for all who strive after improvements, we should have made more progress than we have. Twenty-five years ago wise senators were afraid to give up the twenty-five cent postage and take the 3 cent. It took six thousand years for mankind to learn to plow; and yet the problem is not more than half solved. They would have learned it sooner if they had been willing to try different ways, to see which was the best, or even withhold their senseless laugh at any who were disposed to try something new. Old fogies never encourage invention. They are enemies of improvement and progress.

The Convention of colored men at Columbia, S. C., continued in session six days. It adjourned sine die on the 24th ult. It appears to have been in every respect creditable and successful.

HONEST STATE PRIDE.

In every worthy man's mind there is a sincere love for the State of which he is a citizen. He very naturally dwells upon its peculiar advantages, and forgets or ignores all the circumstances that might be brought forward in opposition to his opinion. This sentiment, when not carried to an extreme and absurd length, is the root of patriotism and the safe guard and honor of nations.

That North Carolinians should have a large portion of this feeling is not surprizing. Indeed her citizens, native and adopted, have just reason to be proud of the varied climate and vast resources of their State. It is in all its parts a "goodly heritage," and only awaits the development of a well arranged system of Internal Improvements to open up the richest fields of industrial and remunerative labor in America. To take the State at large, her hidden riches consist in the productions of the Farm, the Mines, the Fisheries, the Lumber, etc., and the unused power of our people in Factories, Foundries and Machine Shops. For it must always be remembered that wealth is the product of labor; and that no natural or unused materials, however rich, are worth anything until they have been utilized by the toil and labor of man.

How important is it then to give every encouragement to the workman, to enlighten and instruct his mind, and to furnish him with all the aids which modern science has invented in order to facilitate his labor and increase the products of his industry.

It must be remembered that mere boasting with respect to our resources is vain and foolish, unless it leads to their development. The great practical questions still arise: How shall we increase the wealth of the State? And how shall we furnish profitable labor to all who desire to work? Of course the chief, and by far the most important business is cultivating the land. Around us on every hand lie neglected and idle farms, without fences and over-grown with weeds and brush. Yet these lands can be bought or rented on the easiest terms, and would amply repay the cultivator besides improving the country, benefiting the community and enriching the proprietors. More time is wasted in apathetic idleness by young and healthy men and women in every neighborhood, than would be required to reclaim and beautify many farms. This is not only a loss to themselves, but a loss to the communities in which they live, for it is an old but true axiom that "the hand of the industrious maketh rich," and on every side we see painful evidences that idleness produceth poverty, misery and crime. Let all remember the clear and emphatic command: "If any will not work neither should he eat."

We were in error in saying the recent proclamation of the President in reference to South Carolina was a declaration of martial law. He has simply suspended the writ of habeas corpus in the nine counties enumerated. The difference between this and a declaration of martial law is very wide. The civil law is still in force in those counties, and the authority of the State courts is not lessened except in one particular—their process will not release a man arrested by United States officers for an offense against a United States statute. It should be borne in mind, further, that to prevent the possibility of unjust imprisonment, the Ku-Klux law provides that the case of each person arrested shall at once be brought before the Grand Jury of the Federal Court, and if the Jury do not find a bill of indictment he shall be forthwith released.

Nine very important State elections are to be held on Tuesday next. New York elects a portion of its State officers and Justices of the Supreme Court, and both branches of the Legislature. New Jersey elects its Governor and Legislature; Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Wisconsin their State officers and Legislatures; Illinois a Congressman-at-large and a Congressman, to fill vacancies, and Missippi and Virginia their legislatures.

When the President enforces laws to prevent anarchy—as in the case of the Ku Klux laws—he preserves liberty. With liberty all his fame is identified; and this being so, despite all his enemies may say, he can have no vulgar ambition to play the despot.

Mr. Reber, of Lewisburg, Pa., cast his 61st Democratic ballot at the late election.—Democratic Exchange.

We should have thought he was old enough to know better. But how frequently is it true that

> "Sinners who grow old in sin
> Become hardened in their crimes."

We see that Hon. KEMP P. BATTLE has been re-elected President of the North Carolina Agricultural Society. Mr. R. H. SMITH, of Halifax, and EDWARD WOOD Esq., of Chowan, were elected Vice Presidents from this Congressional District.

In as much as the Democracy have such bad luck it is suggested that they take another "new departure," by grounding arms and disbanding as an organization.

The great Democratic leader in New York WM. M. TWEED has been arrested and held to bail to the amount of One Million dollars, to answer the charge of deceit and fraud.

The President has appointed the 30th of November as a day of National Thanksgiving. His Excellency Gov. CALDWELL has appointed Thursday the 23rd inst., for the same purpose.

The Protestant Episcopal General Convention in session for three weeks at Baltimore, adjourned sine die on Thursday last. The entire proceedings of the Convention were marked with the greatest courtesy and harmony.

Apaches are again raiding the white settlements in Arizona.

New Books Periodicals, &c.

THE LADIES FRIEND For November, 1871.

This Magizene comes out with a beautiful new cover, designed and engraved expressly for it;—about as elegant and appropriate a piece of work as could be got up. No periodical now compares with it in outward appearance, and its contents for this month are, if possible, more choice than ever. The fine steel plate, "Is it Raining?" represents a lady stepping out upon a picturesque balcony, among trees and flowers. The Colored Fashions are tasteful and elegant, and the latest styles for dress in all its varieties are illustrated, we should think, to the full satisfaction of feminine demands. The practical character of the paterns furnished upon application, is a point of superiority that needs only to be mentioned. But the rich and varied story matter, much of it illustrated, is the crowning specialty of this magizene. The picture that accompanies "Ashes of Roses" is uncommonly beautiful. "Only Friendship," a continued story in Elise Polka's best style, grows deeply interesting, "Waiting an Answer," is a most expressive picture and poem. The powerfully written serial "Jealousy," is concluded; also the charming domestic story "A Little Maney." "Margaret Mead" is well told; and these articles are actractively mingled with short sketches and poems. Price $3.00 a year. Four copies, $6. Eight copies (and one gratis) $12. "The Lady's Friend" and the "Saturday Evening Post," $4. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia. Single copies for sale by all News Dealers, and by the Publishers, price 20 cents.

OCT. 30, 1871.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

The local news in this section is very dull at this time. Our farmers have finished housing their crop of sweet potatoes which I am pleased to state is very large. The gathering of corn will be commenced next week, and I may here add it will be the largest eyer housed in this section.

Our Baptist friends have just closed their Union Meeting. It was largely attended. Your paper reaches us regular, giving us such news as we like to hear from our own native home. We had a marriage near this place on Sunday, the 23d inst, Mr Griffin Hewett to Miss Cordelia A. Temple, by Rev. J. M. C. Luke. We wish the young couple much joy.

In conclusion Mr. Editor, we would be pleased to see you take a trip to our rich Tad More where you can see the richest land in Eastern North Carolina, and by the way, the best corn.

The Colored Convention. Address to the People of America. The Plea for Confidence and Sympathy.

In the Convention of the Colored People of the Southern States, begun to be holden in the City of Columbia, South Carolina, on Wednesday, the eighteenth day of October, 1871:

REPORT.

The Committee on Address to whom were referred the subject of preparing an address to be issued by this Convention to the American people, beg leave most respectfully to report that they have carefully and diligently considered the same, and recommend the adoption of the following address to the people of the United States of America.

R. B. ELLIOTT,
Chairman of Committee.

After treating at length of the various obstacles which have been thrown in the path of progress of the colored race, the address says:

While there remains anything to be accomplished in order to secure the full enjoyment of civil and political rights, we shall have class interests calling for the united efforts of persons of color. The moment these ends are secured, the motives for separate action will cease, and, in common with all other citizens, we can take our places wherever the interest of the Government, industry, or humanity may appoint—recognizing only one standard of duty, interest, or policy for all citizens.

We do not ask the Government or people of the United States to treat us with peculiar favor, but that, in the policy of the laws, our interest may be grouped with those that receive the consideration of our legislative bodies, and that, in the administration of the laws, no invidious distinctions be made to our prejudice.

While we have, as a body, contributed our labor in the past to enhance the wealth and promote the welfare of the community, we have as a class been deprived of the acquisition of education and experience, the return that civilization makes for the labor of the individual.

We ask that your Representatives in Congress may be instructed to afford such aid in extending education to the uneducated classes in the States we represent as may be consistent with the financial interests of the nation. We do not seek these benefits for ourselves alone, but for the white portion of the laboring class in our States, whose need is as great as ours.

In order to advance our knowledge and skill in the industrial arts it is necessary that we should come in contact with educated and experienced workmen and be put in possession of the results of their skill and knowledge. If the trades and workshops are shut against us we can not reach that point of excellence to which we desire to attain. We ask your aid and sympathy in placing us on the same footing in reference to the pursuits of industry as that enjoyed by other citizens. If, after having access to the means of becoming skilful workmen, we fail to attain that standing, we are content to take rank among the industrial classes of the country according to the degree of our proficiency. Should we be excluded from these benefits a state of things will arise most prejudicial to the interest of skilled labor, namely: the existence of a great body of workmen ready to supply the market with poor work at cheap rates.

We would do injustice to ourselves, if, forgetting our own personal indebtedness for the blessing of liberty, and the pursuit of independence and happiness, to that outgrowth of Christian civilization, the benignant spirit of our country and century, we should pass unnoticed the condition of those of our race who are still in the state of slavery. The public sentiment of this great nation combined with that of Europe, with the good offices of our Government, is surely sufficient to hasten the abolition of African slavery throughout the world. We sincerely trust that expression may be given to such sentiment as will attract the attention and influence the conduct of those few remaining nations that still maintain slavery as a legal institution.

The growth of this nation has shown that its institutions are capable of blending into an harmonious brotherhood all nationalities and all interests and industries. In all other instances than that of the accession of our race to citizenship, the accretion of the elements of its population has been gradual—giving time to complete the process of assimilation. The instantaneous embodiment of four millions of citizens who had for years looked upon the government as not only denying them citizenship, but as preventing them from acquiring that capacity under any other national existence, was, it must be admitted, a startling political fact.

We would call attention to the fact that the conferring of citizenship on our people, though the occasion, is not the cause of the agitations that have affected the country. The true cause is the spirit of opposition to whatever is enlarged and unselfish in our government, and that does not insure to the exclusive interest of the privileged few, which has seized upon the act of the Government as a means of shutting out of the Southern States liberal and national ideas.

We affirm, without fear of contradiction, that the colored citizens of the United States have conducted themselves as good citizens, and have displayed aptness to discharge their civil and political duties, as well as an intuitve fitness for that form of government which we justly regard as the highest expression of civic wisdom.

Under these circumstances, and with the proofs of the truth of our statement abundant on every hand, we ask your fullest confidence and sympathy.

Robert B. Elliott, B. A. Boseman,

General Summary.

Another steamer has been sunk in the Mississippi River.

Government will purchase $5,000,000 in bonds and sell $7,000,000 in gold during November.

Money is extremely scarce in Paris, and the Bank of France is issuing notes of small denominations.

Money is extremely scarce in Paris, and the Bank of France issuing nothes of small denominations.

Gen. Robert Anderson, who as Major Anderson commanded the United States forces at Fort Sumpter at the breaking out of the war, is reported dead at Nice, France.

Hawkins, the Mormon elder, has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and warrants have been issued for the arrest of Brigham Young and his son Joseph for murder.

A new lodge of colored Freemasons has been organized in Jersey City. It has taken the name "King Solomon Lodge," and has twenty-fore charter members.

It is mentioned that an elm tree of the age of more than three centuries, and which was well advanced in life when the Pilgrims came to this country, was cut down the other day in Connecticut.

Colorado has the credit of being the first to introduce a complete narrow-gauge railroad to the notice of the country. The Denver people are jubilant over the successful working of a road of this description, 76 miles long, connecting that city with Colorado Springs.

Arthur X. Breed, the forger, was charged before Judge Hogan, at the Tombs, in New York city, on Wednesday, with passing a forged check for 5,900 on the Stuyvesant Bank, and was committed without bail. While the clerk was making out his commitment, the prisoner snatched the forged check and attempted to swallow it. Before he had succeeded in mutil ating it the officers seized him by the throat, and after a desperate struggle took it from his mouth.

THE DIALECT OF OUR ORATORS.—But I was talking of the peculiar dialect of these people rather than their opinions. Henry Clay's speaking was strongly marked by it. James M. Mason of Virginia seemed to delight in the African accent. But there was no better specimen than the late Thomas. H. Bayly, for many years the Representative in Congress of the Accomac District. He was a man of considerable force and education, and I can easily recall his tall form, his expressive face and ringing voice, as spectacles on nose, he would address the "Mr. Sbeakah," and refer to the honorable member who has just hrd the "flo." Keitt of South Carolina had the same accent and pronunciation. So, too, Linn Boyd of Kentucky and Howell Cobb of Georgia. All these men, and most of the former leaders of opinion in the South, are in their graves, but Toombs, Stephens, Henry A. Wise, Bocock, John Forsyth and Jeff. Davis still live as warning if not as examples.

The Nashville (Tenn.) Banner says: "If we say that we have hopes of the success of the Democratic Party in the momentous Presidential canvass of next year we deceive ourselves. Those only who dare to be truthful, among the leaders of party or of public opinion, will command the confidence of the people. Such a leader is the Missouri Republican, which, convinced of the utter hopelessness of a Democratic ticket, frankly advises the party managers of the opposition to make no nominations. Admitting the force of this view which the Republican, a leading Democratic paper of the West, takes of the future of parties, the Memphis Ledger, another Democratic paper. says: 'If matters progress as they are progressing—if no change come over the masses of the North, the most hopeful Democrat cannot expect a Democratic triumph next year. No matter upon whom the Radical nomination falls, the party, now unquestionably numerically strongest, will, if he be opposed by the nominee of the Democratic Convention, vote solidly together.' In Virginia, the Richmond Whig, another prominent Democratic reflex, says 'the results of the recent elections will go far to convince all reflecting men that the only reasonable hope of defeating the Administration party at the next Presidential election is in a grand rally of all the opposition elements under new colors, and with a ticket that liberal Republicans, who desire to get the country out of the war rut, will support. If the Democratic candidates, the indications are that it will be doomed to a Waterloo defeat.'"

Thirty of the thirty-two men who were in the mine at Sedham, England, where the explosion occurred, are dead. The pit is on fire.

A young lady in Oil City, Penn., while wringing out a dress, ran a needle through the palm of her hand, and died in five minutes.

Col. Carrow, on his way to attend Court in New-bern, arrested in Goldsboro,' W. S. Ball, charged with dealing extensively in untaxed tobacco.

It is reported that the Hon. Thomas Settle, Minister to Peru, has resigned, and will soon return to his home in North Carolina.

A stack at the iron furnace of Andrews Brothers, near Youngstown, Ohio, exploded on Saturday morning. The effects were terribly destructive to the surrounding buildings. Nine men were seriously injured, and two have since died. The loss is $70,000.

Rev. Colyer, the eloquent clergyman of Chicago, when his empoverished congregation assembled by the ruins of their beautiful church for worship, told them that he once preached a year for seventy-five cents, and for their sakes he would do it again if necessary and if worst came to worst, he could still make as good a horse shoe as any blacksmith in Chicago.

Commissioner Douglass received a dispatch from Edward Tompkins, Jr., who was detailed by the Internal Revenue office to look after its interests in Chicago, stating that the vaults were opened this morning and stamps found therein in good order to the value of $763,000; and further, that the collector's offices are again in operation, and that everything is working well.—Washington Star, 17th.

Senator Sprague and his brother Amasa Sprague, of Providence, Rhode Island, are erecting in the cemetery of that city a family monumental tombstone at a cost of $100,000. The remains of the deceased members of the family are to be removed to the lot containing the monument. We suppose this piece of ostentation is founded upon the rocks of Spragues, otherwise it could scarcely stand with so little ostensible cause for its existence.

Sacramento, Cal., has had a sensation. The Reporter of that city narrated that a beautiful maiden, dressed in the hight of fashion, had been discovered camping in the brush outside R-st., and subsisting on peanuts and potatoes. The policemen immediately armed themselves and went on a journey of investigation. They found the innocent young thing, but, alas, for the romance of it! she was over 30 years old, so drunk that she could'nt articulate, and as for her dress, it was like that of the man who kissed the maiden all forlorn. Such was the Beautiful Unknown of Sacramento.

A lady has started a paper at Portland, Oregon, which she calls the New North-West. Her salutary opens in this vigorous style: "We have served a regular apprenticeship at working, washing, scrubbing, patching, darning, ironing, plain sewing, raising babies, milking churning and poultry raising. We have kept boarders, taught school and music, written for the newspapers, made speeches and carried on an extensive millinery and dress making business. We can prove by the public that this work has been well done. Now, having reached the age of thirty-six and having brought up a family of boys to set type, and a daughter to run a millinery store, we propose to edit and publish a newspaper; and we intend to establish it as one of the permanent institutions of the country.' Which is not only straightforward talk, but better poetry we leave it to anybody, than Walt Whirtman's.

Good heavens! here is another sect of so-called Christains, said to exist and even flourish in Southern Indiana. They call themselves by the startling name of "The Soul Sleepers," and their idea is that the immortality of the soul is limited to certain lucky ones, through the mediation of the Savior, while all the other souls which are unfit for Heaven are annihilated. They are not capable of bliss, and God is too good to torture them. As they are too bad for salvation and too good for damnation, it logically follows that they must cease to exist altogether. Our impression is that this heresy is an old one revived—either that or something like it. At Columbus, Ga., is still another sect, bearing the complicated name of "Theophilanthropists." The creed is simple: "The world is my country, and to do good my religion;" so that we do not see why these new devotees did not call themselves the "Theophilanthropocosmopolitanists," which would have been more impressive and sonorous. One pontion af the belief of the Theo Phi's we somewhat approve. It i2 that "any system of religion which shocks the mind of a child cannot be a true system"—rather a broad bit of generalization, but with a grain of truth in it.

A DIALOGUE.

"Hallow neighbor, where have you been and what is all that stuff you have there?"

"Why these are all goods of a variety of kinds. I only had a little money and wanted it go as far as possible, and heard of KEATON'S as a cheap store. I went there and laid out my funds and am satisfied that I saved at least TEN CENTS ON EVERY DOLLAR. I found another advantage—he has old experienced merchants for Clerks, and they know how to treat a customer as he should be. In fact it is all fair dealing: one need not be afraid of paying too high for any article, or of having a bad article put upon him.

"Why how is all this? It has only been about two weeks since I heard that 'this man Keaton only kept a little bit of grocery shop.' I did not suppose it worth while to go there to look for a stock of anything."

"Yes, I heard the report, but I thought then as I do now that it was put in circulation by an envious infamous puppy for the purpose of injuring Keaton's trade or cedit, or both. I'll warrant if you go there and look through and price his goods you will come to the same conclusion I have, that he keeps as near everything as any store in this town. He informs me that they were all purchased in the cities of Philadelphia and New York, and I see that they are being sold low, and that they are going off like "hot cakes."

KEATON'S is the place to go to save time and money in making purchases. Go and see or yourselves. 19—3t.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisement in this iss.

Dr. J. M. Butt advertises.
See New advertisement of B. F. Keaton.

Local and Personal.

☞ Superior Court in Gates county this week.

☞ Read the "Dialogue" in our advertising columns.

☞ A new idea—to have the pavements swept at the public expense!!!

☞ See the new advertisements of Dr Butt. He appreciates the use of printer's ink—is satisfied that it pays.

☞ J. M. Weed, Esq., President of the Land and Lumber Company, has returned.

☞ The Baptists are having a revival meeting in progress here. It is attended with good success.

☞ Our young townsman W. O. Shannon has opened a Grocery Store at the late stand of T. T. Whitcomb. "Oscar" has our best wishes for success.

☞ We are glad to welcome our friend J. H. Shaw, Esq., back again. He has been spending some time on his "native heath" in Pennsylvania.

☞ A meeting of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company was held in Norfolk on Thursday last for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. Marshall Parks, Esq., was unanimously elected President and M. Courtright, A. C. Powell, Washington Reed, H. Gallop and Jos. B. Cherry, were elected Directors.

☞ Precept is all very well but example is much more potent. Be it for evil or for good, it is contagious. Preaching never accomplishes half as much as practice. It is a standing proverb of Josh Billings that "one live man in a place is like the itch in a country school, it sets them all to scratching." And it is so. A live go-ahead man in a neighborhood works wonders. It isn't long before his neighbors, one by one, begin to follow him.

☞ The great fires in the West, taking farms and houses and villages in their devastating track, are causing the immigrants from the Northern and Eastern States to feel that there is danger in locating in a country so covered with praries, and ever subject to great gales of wind that make it dangerous from fires during every season of drouth. In this country there is no such danger. And here the climate is more genial, the soil is quite as good, and the prospects for the future far superior. To those of our thousands of readers in the Northern States who desire to emigrate, we say: Come and see this country before purchasing elsewhere.

☞ The Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church closed its sessions at this place on Thursday morning last. The day sessions were devoted to the business of the Church and the evenings to sermons by the different Elders present from the various districts of the Conference. The former were conducted in an orderly and dignified manner, and the latter were earnest, practical and some of them really eloquent. The sermon on Wednesday evening by Elder John V. Givens, of Petersburg, Va., was equal in oratory and genuine eloquence to anything we ever heard. He is a natural orator both in gesture and tone as well as in language. His theme was, "The Mountains about Jerusalem," and he "traveled over them" to the edification, satisfaction and instruction of the largest audience ever assembled in their Church at this place. The most of the Elders remain at their present stations another year. This of course leaves Father Pitts at Elizabeth City. We think this fortunate for his people here because his course has been of that consistent and dignified character as to secure the respect and confidence of all, both white and colored. The next meeting of the Conference will be held at Hertford.

☞ It is an old adage and one that every day experience verifies that "God helps those who help themselves." And what is true of individuals is alike a verity when applied to towns and communities. The only way for either to prosper in material things is to work together with those forces that are under their lawful control. Let us illustrate by a few striking examples. In a town in Massachusetts fifteen years ago, a number of men worked hard and erected a small nail and iron mill. The capital was raised in the immediate vicinity. With well directed efforts they made money, and to-day they have one of the most successful nail and bar-iron works in the United States. Shortly after the erection of the Iron Works, a party of men erected a Cotton Factory costing about $500,000 and to-day they have $15,000,000 interested in cotton factories; and the most of this money was furnished from the immediate vicinity of the town where the mills and factories are located. Not long since a new corporation was created for another factory: the capital stock was to be $200,000. The first day the books were opened there was about $200,000 more more offered than was wanted. This is the way that State has become prosperous and wealthy. The same course would bring about the same result here. Would each man of large and small means in Elizabeth City use money in the same way ours would soon become the most flourishing City in the South. It would not only add to individual, but to the general prosperity. Citizens think about it.

☞ Among the Northern arrivals since our last we notice David Kirk of Pennsylvania and J. Shurtz, of Michigan.

☞ The Schooner of the Land and Lumber Company—the "Johanna"—has arrived with another cargo of Goods. They will load her with lumber for Philadelphia.

☞ The article on "Narrow Gauge Railways" has been received. The subject has claimed our attention and we have written several articles upon it. We must and WILL have a railroad.

☞ The Newberne Times says His Honor Judge Brooks, while proceeding from the Court room, on the 24th ult., slipped and fell, slightly spraining his ankle and injuring his right hand. The injuries, though painful, did not prevent the Judge from holding court.

☞ We have received a communication signed by "Critic." We have but a brief reply to make. While we undertake to furnish him with facts and arguments we do not propose supplying him with brains in the bargain. We can't furnish what nature omitted to give him. There are some vacuums beyond our ability to fill up.

☞ The trial of Bridgers, charged with the murder of a man named Burden came off at Winton last week. We have not learned the result. The murder occurred in May last, and as public feeling was very strong against the accused his counsel asked that his case be moved to Hertford county for trial which was granted. Judge Pool set apart Tuesday of last week for the beginning of the trial. Able counsel was employed on both sides—for the State Hon. John W. Alberson, P. H. Winston and J. L. Mitchell; for the prisoner, Maj. H. A. Gilliam, Hon. D. A. Barnes and others. We have since learned that he was acquitted.

☞ We are obliged to decline the bits of poetry from "Nettie." She may have poetical genius, but the effusions sent us don't convince us, skeptic that we are, of the fact. And yet if it is "a source of pleasure amid the tiresome routine of household cares" to write such harmless rhymes we advise her to keep on. But to write for the public—few can do it without long and careful study. Alice Carey was a poet, and yet her brographer informs us that she took great pains with her style—revised, corrected and re-wrote. Milton was a poet, but "Paradise Lost" was produced in the ripeness of mature years and after an intellectual drill which made him supreme scholar of his age.

☞ A man named Thomas E. Matthews was murdered in Gates county on the 21st ult. Mr. Matthews was a merchant doing business near a small village named Greenville, in Gates county. After closing his store on Saturday night, he started with his wife for his residence, which is a short distance from the store. Just before they reached the house four men suddenly appeared on the opposite side of the road, and each one fired at Mr. Matthews. All the shots took effect, and Mr. Matthews fell dead within a few feet of his horror-stricken wife, who, strange to say, escaped injury. The dead man was carried into his house and the neighborhood aroused. Two men named Butler and Carter have been arrested on suspicion of having engaged in the murder. The former is now in jail, the other released on $30,000 bail.

Business Locals.

It is said that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of, liver kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters. 18—1t

Guess who is the neatest Housekeeper in our town? We know her. She cleans her knives, china, windows, paint, oil cloths, tables and floars, and brightens her tin, brass and copper wares with Enoch Morgan's Sons' Sapolio. Ask for it. It is a good thing. For sale by Dr. D. T. Krebs & Co. 19—3t.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BE GUIDED BY WHAT YOU KNOW.—There is an old proverb which says, "Experience is the safest guide." To this guide the sick and ailing naturally turn when casting about for the means of relief. They enquire what a medicine has done for others, before they adopt it themselves. Of all the remedies and preventives in use, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters meets the test most triumphantly, and hence its immense popularity and vast sales. The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of this ailment by the famous vegetable stomachic. The victim of fever and ague, liver complaint, constipation, nervous prostration, or general debility, has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he resides in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own. In the published testimony to its merits he will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary properties, which it is impossible for his common sense to resist. He tries it, and the effect it produces on his system adds another to the host of witnesses in its favor. Thus, its reputation, founded on facts, not assertions, continually grows and spreads. Charlatans and impostors, some of them mere local trick sters, and others who take a somewhat wider range, attempt to thrust into the hands and down the throats of invalids, their hapbazard concoctions, as substitutes for the tonic which for so many years has been a medicinal staple throughout the United States, Spanish America, Canada, and the West Indies, but only succeed to a very limited extent. In this reasoning age, the people, having ascertained what is really deserving of their confidence, decline, "running after strange gods."

To the Farmers and Planters of Maryland and the South generally.

HORNER'S MARYLAND SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

WE COURT THE CHEMIST'S INQUIRY.

After 23 years' experience in the Fertilizing business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of this Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and everyway worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "Maryland" is a rejuvinator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients, with a very liberal percentage of Potash in the residuum. There is no adulterator or inferior article used—every particle of the Phosphate being of essential benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay. For cotton, wheat, corn, and as a general stimulant and aliment for worn and impoverished land, there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphate than any other fertilizer in the market. Price $50 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery. FOUTZ'S
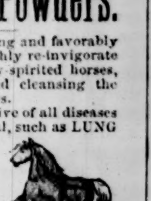
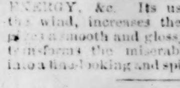
CELEBRATED
Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.





To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Salt the Stock.

We have lately observed many head of stock drooping, rough in the skin, and apparently suffering from some loss of appetite. We had thought it was entirely owing to the constant irritation from flies and the long continued dry weather. Upon questioning the owners, however, we generally find that periodical salting has been neglected; while our own cattle, which have received their regular weekly allowance of salt, appear sleek and healthy.

Salt is cheap, and is absolutely necessary for the welfare of man and beast. The excuse is usually "I was so busy at harvest that I forgot all about them." We have seen farmers who take the trouble to buy salt and top dress every load of hay that comes in the barn, and yet forget their poor dumb animals.

If the practice of salting is regularly attended to at stated periods, it is no very great trouble, and occupies but little time; while if only occasionally resorted to, it is very apt to be forgotten and neglected altogether. A still better plan, perhaps, is to place accessible to all the stock, lumps of rock salt. By this means all have an equal chance of appeasing the instinctive appetite according to the wants of the system, and will neither take the salt greedily so as to induce extreme thirst, and other inconveniences resulting from excess, nor suffer from the deprivation of an article of diet essential of health.—Canada Farmer.

Alkalies.

Why do you put lime with your manure when composing or preparing it for application to your fruit trees, and vegetable garden? Because it is the recommendation of writers is not a sufficient answer. We reply that lime has been found to be the best alkali, or an alkali in the best condition to supply the demands of vegetation; the most readily appropriated by all kinds of fruit bearing trees, vines and plants. And the need of an alkali of some kind for making vegetables, trees, &c., give an abundance, and prefect products, arises from the fact revealed by chemical analysis, that lime and potash exist in them. Your soil must contain all the substances that enter into the growth of vine, tree and plant, and the fruit and products of them as well.

The fruit of all these imperati velydemand an alkali. Pomologists advise dressing the soil of the orchard with lime, when trees become barren of fruit; farmers advise to top dressing of land sowed to wheat when a sufficient straw can be grown, yet the heads do not fill well for the reason that lime is needed to perfect the grain. Old soil exhausted of its lime and potash, or new land when your vines are at fault in setting and perfecting grapes will be improved by a liberal addition of lime and ashes.—Fruit and Wine Reporter.

Take Care of the Straw.

If a farmer happens to be without straw for one winter, he fully realizes the value of it in his business. A good straw stack makes a cheerful barn yard in the winter. You will rarely see poor stock where there is a large stack of bright straw. It makes a dry and sheltered yard, soft, dry beds in the stall, and is worth a great deal to work in with better fodder. Bright straw and some grain will take farm horses that have little work to do through the cold months in health and good flesh. The same feed will suffice for store sheep. The straw stack affords cattle a good luncheon, but milch cows, fatting stock, and those that are young, require hay and other richer food. But the straw is of so much value that it is worth while to make the stack in the best manner, so as to keep its contents bright and dry. The top should be finished with a little fine hay, or grass cut for the purpose. By raking and trimming of the machine has gone, and topping out properly the straw will come out in the winter as bright as when threshed.—American Rural Home.

Plugging the Holes of Apple Tree Borers.

A correspondent of the New-England Farmer relates the experience of a neighbor in destroying apple tree borers by plugging up the holes they make in the tree. He says that his friend while making an examination last spring of one of his trees, found several holes with signs of borers at work. He soon found it too much of a job to follow them with wire or chisel; so he dug around the roots, scraped off the rough bark from roots and trunk, found all the holes. Then he took common putty and plugged them all up perfectly tight. On the third day doing this he visited the tree, and on removing the putty found, to his surprise, four borers dead, all of which came out with the plugging. By this process he destroyed the borers without cutting the roots or trunk of the tree, which is as injurious as the work of the borer, as I have often found it necessary to cut quite deep in a tree to reach the rascals. From the irregularity of the direction of their course, I have also found much difficulty in fishing them out with a barbed wire.

Greasing Wheels.

Many a wheel is ruined by oiling too plentifully. A well made wheel will endure constant wear for ten or twenty years if care is taken to use the right kind and proper amount of oil; but if this matter is not tended to the wheel will be used up in five or six years, or perhaps sooner. Lard should never be used on a wagon, for it will penetrate the hub, and work its way out around the tenons of the spokes, and spoil the wheel. Castor oil is a good material to use on an iron axle; just oil enough should be applied to a spindle to give it a light coating; this is better than more, for the surplus put on will work out at the ends, and be forced by the shoulders and nut into the hub around the outside of the boxes. To oil an axle-tree, first wipe the spindle clean with a cloth wet with turpentine, if it won't wipe without it. On a buggy or carriage, wipe and clean off the back and front ends of the hubs, and then apply a very small quantity of castor oil, or some especially prepared lubricator near the shoulders and point.—Boston Journal of Chemistry.

ROSE CUTTINGS.—One of the best methods of securing the success of these, says a recent writer, is to stick the cutting about an inch deep into clean river sand with properly prepared soil about an inch below to receive the roots as soon as they strike. The clean sand prevents the roots from rotting. A correspondent of the Horticulturist succeeded with this when every other mode failed—and says he does not lose one in twenty.

NOT to be beaten.—First Juvenile: "My mamma's got the shiningest hair in all Bayswater," Second do: "My mamma's got the curlingest hair in all London." First do: "My mamma's got the longest hair in all England." Second do: "My mama's got the thickest hair in all the whole world," First do: "My mamma can sit on herr hair." ## DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 535 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Propertres in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front. permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a whole-sale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished. modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the uicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190' 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268, 271, 283, 285. 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front. and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildinos wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultivated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water transportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

☞ The most direct and cheapest route is to go to Baltimore by N. C. R. R., then Bay Line steamer to Norfolk, Va., then steamer to Elizabeth City, N. C.

March 9th 1871.

DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT

Has made the most astonishing cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful medicine, that

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphili, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Theum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh. Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges. Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastess, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for KIDNEY & BLADDER COMPLAINTS, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all casee where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust, deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen'l Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 & 34 Commerce St. N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
